DESTINY'S TWO

By Richard Paul

CHORUS
He holds her heart and her hope and still more,
-- ----- ----- ------
She wrests his soul from despair's rancid jaws,
---- ---- ------ -----
United they stand at the brink of a war,
* ------ ----- --*--
For they'll suffer the darkness no more.
--- ----- --*---
CHORUS END

By fate or by chance did they meet,
---- --------- ---*---
On the last of their realm's normal days.
--- --------- --*---
Adventure's call they'd have cause to greet
---- ---- ------- ------
Whilst their unruly hearts had their say.
-- ------- --*--

(CHORUS)

The hand of strife was drawing near,
------ ----- ----- -----
Schemers contrived to defile their home,
------ ------ - ------
Boldly they stood against peril and fear
----- ----- -- ----
As they hunted the foe all alone.
----- --- --*---

(CHORUS)

If they had failed or fell then the fate
- --- --- ---
Of our homeland would be dark indeed,
------ -- --*---
But their courage and their cunning proved great,
---- ----- ---*---
Greater by far than a tyrant's greed.
------ --- -- ------

(CHORUS)

Bravely they broke through the schemers deceits,
------- ------- ------ -----
To risk their own lives for justice they dared,
--- ----- --- -------
To the bane of their home they brought defeat
------ ------- --------- -----
And with her own lies, the tyrant they snared.
----- ---- -- --------

(CHORUS X2)

-*- = Stressed Syllables

Copyright © 2020 Richard Paul www.rmepaul.com
rmepaul@googlemail.com